THE LIKE OHAU MASSACRE.

The Bastern Daily Mail (Singapore) of 20th November writes editorially :--

The latest explanatory advices concerning the origin of the Lien-chan massacra show the it arose from the indiscretion of one of the missionaries who, however, was one of those who managed to escape with his life. Missionaries are, like the rest of us, but human beings and prone to err As's rule they are inclined in take for granted the existence of a friendly; tentiment which, if it does exist at all, is gange rally not strong enough to have any appreciable weight against a popular anti-foreign movement when the crisis comes. The Boxer outbreak was evidence of the fact that there still exists in the interior of China; if not at the treaty norts, a strong anti-foreign sentiment, which the suppression of that movement has probably only served to accentuate. The boycott has also tended to keep alive this feeling by territory, and he found it necessary to detain showing the more rabid class that the better | the Five Commissioners that he might enjoy and more intelligent class are one with them so far as feeling that a grievance against the "foreign devils" really exists.

But horrible as the atracities at Lien-chau were, they cannot compare with those which' have been repeatedly perpetrated in Russia by our excellent Christlan brothers of the Greek | sending Marquis Ito to Peking, the Chinese persuasion. There are also pretty good evidences that the German troops in China, and German and Belgian officials in Africa, not to speak of one or two French officials in Cochin China, have performed some deeds which in chan. Our American friends also have a penchant for negro-baiting, and scarcely a year passes but what one or more negroes in some section of the United States is burned alive at the stake for a real or imagined crime. It ill behanves us Europeans, then, to prate of our great superiority over the savages of Lien-chau. The vencer of civilisation in but a vencer, after all, and a thin one at that. We have our own hooligans at home and they are fully as bad a Int to handle as any Police could care for. The main difference between their barbarity and that of China is that our own hoodinms are less clannish and hence lack cohesion and the ability to carry things with as high a hand as they atherwise might. It is also probable that they are a much smaller proportion of the total population than is true in China, where the people have not had the benefits of our muchvaunted civilisation.

In viewing the Lienschau affair, then, it must he taken into consideration that a foreigner i a rarity in that Incality; that he is a natural object of suspicion, all things being consider. ed; that offence was given by one of the missionaries that the rinting was started by the Vounger and rougher element in apposition to the desires of the older men concerned in the veligibus festival which was interfered with that the discovery of a skull in the hospital further excited the ignorant, and that an hones effort was apparently made by the official element to protect the hated objects of the mob's wrath, which is not usually the case in the 'land of the free and the home of the brave,"

The missionary who goes into such a district should bear in mind that he takes his life in his hands, and should he a man of tried discretion, a man who would make every effort to conciliate the people and avoid as far as possible giving reason for the slightest offence. Far from the protection of his own flig and entirely LARGE DOUBLE ROOM and I SINGLE, relfant, in most cases, for his very existence. apon the goodwill of the people among whom he labours, he can expect nothing, more than revenge or his sudden death if he brings upon himself the illwill of his neighbours. However much the local mandarins may desire to protect the foreigners in their midst, the present instance is by no means the first in which It has been shown that they have no adequate force for that purpose, China is in a state of unrest. This feeling will doubtless be anything but allayed by the demands which are likely to be made upon the Government for satisfaction for this outrage. If anything like vindictive punishment of the Lien-chau mob be demanded, the effect is not likely to be salutary upon the missionaries and other Europeans and Americans residing in different parts of the Chinese Empire.

THE MANCHURIA NEGOTIA-TIONS.

Peking, Nov. 21st.

The proposal, handed in by Baron Komura at the first conference on the grat inst., comprises sixteen articles as follows :--

(1.) China's recognition of the transfer to Japan of the lease of Linotung Peninsula. (2.) The ownership by Japan of the Chinese

Eastern Railway, (3.) The establishment of Japanese railway

(4.) The establishment of Japanese post [692] offices and telegraphs,

(5.) Japanese is to be allowed 18 months within which to evacuate Manchuria. (6.) The establishment by Japan of Consulates and military posts in Newchwangs

Fengtien, Atnung, Kirin and Changchun. (7.) Japan is to have the privilege of establishing banks in Newchwang, Fengtien and Kirin, the same to be permitted to open branches in whichever place where trade is (8.) The Commissioner of Customs at Newchwang is to be a Japaness, (9.) The opening of Manchuria and the extension of its trade in general, (10.) The concession to extend the Chinese Eastern Railway, (11.) The right of exploiting mines.

(12.) The control of the salt industry, (13.) The monopoly of the timber industry on the right bank of the Yalu River. (14.) Right of residence by Japanese in any part of Manchuria. (15.) Japan is to be first consulted in the granting of concessions to foreigners. (16.) The term of this treaty is to be royears. THE PERING CONFERENCE

Peking, Nov sand. The damands of Japan, as presented b Baron Komura, being regarded by China as extravagant, the second conference, which was o take place to-day was postponed, as the Chinese Pleuipotentiaries require an extension of time for the deliberation of their reply.

THE DEPARTURE OF THE HIGH COM-

The five Commissioners, who were to be granted Imperial audience on the 11th and to depart from the Capital on the 13th inst, as reported in our columns, decided to postpone their departure on account of the arrival, of Baron Komura and his Mission. After the first conference, when the Japanese l'lenipotentiaries handed over their proposals, consisting sixteen articles, Prince Ching was astounded by their extravagant demands, which would practically transform Manchuria into Japanese. the benefit of their advice. H. E. Tuan Fang has been almost daily consulted by the Chinese Plenipotentiaries it is believed that as soon as the second conference takes place, the Commissioners will start on their tour.

It is also reported that as the Japanese are Government proposes to include Viceroys Chang Chih-tung and Chou Fu in the list of Chinese Plenipotentiaries, while H. E. Tuan Fang will be appointed as an Associate Commissioner in the negotiations with Japan., If real barbarity are fully as bad as those of Lien- this report is true, then the departure of the High Commissioners for the West will be indefinitely postponed,-Shanghai Times.

HONGKONG, WEDNESDAY, NOV. 29, 1905.

HOUSK RENIS IN BONGRONG.

The question of house rents in Hongkong is one which is daily becoming more serious, for there never was a time when those who are compelled to occupy the position of tenants were so greatly handicapped in the struggle for existence as at present. Two or three years ago when the value of silver ruled low, estate agents in Hongkong alleged that their principals in England, who retired from Hongkong but retained immense properties in the Colony, suffered by the depreciation in their repts as represented in gold. Hence they declared that, to maintain the normal revenue derivable by property owners in sterling, it was necessary to increase the rents, so that when converted into gold at the then exchange rate of the day, the average in sterling of the rentals received from the properties would remain as before. But during the last few months exchange has risen steadily, representing altogether a rise of something like 15 per cent. In all trade circulars it is agreed that the outlook for silver is highly favourable to a continued increase, so that we need not consider the possibility of silver falling to the rate which prevailed some three years ago. The result of this is that the sterling value of the rental returns, when calculated at the present, to say nothing of a higher, exchange rate is correspondingly higher by some 15 or 20 per cent, than the rents obtained when the basis was converted from silver into gold. Residents in the Colony, and tenants in particular, have a strong claim for a reduction in the cost of rents. Just as they were helpless when the rents were raised to meet the sterling claim of property owners so they have to-day a justifiable claim, equitably speaking, to expect property owners to reduce their rents, now that more than it did a couple of years ago. that his Majesty is almost entirely recovered." This question of rents affects a very considerable section of the community in Hongas on the average wage-carner in Colony; and it is only the favoured few, who draw their salaries with a rent allowance from the firms or corporations which employ their services, that are not affected by the question of higher or lower rentals at all. Generally, such people are in command | As a consequence of the failure of the rice of handsome not to say princely, salaries, and a few dollars more or less would not hurt their purses in any way. But we are appealing to the property-owners on behalf of the great middle class who are really the people most acutely touched by the special circumstances arising as the result of the prevailing condition of the monetary market. Salaries have not been increased in anything like the same ratio as the cost of rents; while the price of commodities generally in the Colony has appreciated in a marked degree, To be more precise; it is generally assumed in Great Britain, that the amount paid by is on that calculation that reformers proceed, and the highest they allow as the proportion of salary which should be devoted to paying the rent is 15 per cent. Ten per cent. of an average clerk's salary in Hongkong would not provide him with even coolie accommodation for himself and family. As a matter of fact, the average amount, paid by the middle class in Hongkong cannot be put at less than 25 per cent. of their incomes, which is altogether abnormal, and means the loss of those little luxuries (and in certain

CRIFFINE COMING LACM THE NORTH

Some apprehension has been felt in Hong kong that there was a danger of the races being allowed to lapse on account of the paucity of griffing. Mr. T. F. Hough, Clerk of the Course, has dispelled that illusion by a statement which he made to-day to one of the representatives of the Hongkong Telegraph. The griffins. he said in affect, will be here, and the races will take place in February. At this time of the year it is usual for ponies to be exercising in training for the races, but up to the present time there is a notable lack of fresh blood there. CLAIM FOR DEPOSIT MONEY.

In Original Jurisdiction this morning, His Lordship, Sir Francis Piggott, Chief Justice, presiding, Lo Yu Wo, of No. 46, Queen's Road East, sued Kwong Kam Chuen, of No. 286, Des Vieux Road, Central, for recovery of the sum of $2,000, being the amount of money deposited with defendant by plaintiff.

Mr. H. G. Calthrop, instructed by Mr. O. D. Thomson, appeared for the plaintiff, and Mr. H. W. Slade, instructed by Messrs. Wilkinson and Grist, appeared for the defendant.

Mr. Calthrop, in opening the case, said, that in June, 1903, a building contract was entered into between Kwong Kam, Chuen and the Wing We firm for building a row of foreign houses on inland.lots Nos. 573 and 574, Kwong Kain Chuen being then a member of the Wing Wo firm. The latter entered into a sub-contract. with Chow King Fong and Kwong Kam-Chuen, wanting security for the due performance of the contract, approached Lo Yu Wo. the plaintiff, to deposit the sum of $2,000 as security for such performance of the said contract. Those houses, so contracted for had now been completed, and the money was therefore returnable to the plaintiff. The work was catried on by the Tai Chau firm and was certi fied by experts to the defendant. His Lordship pointed out that the agreement for the Bub-contract which had been amended had not

It merely prints two statements, one attributed to Sir John See, the other, to M Kondu Rempel, president of the Nippon Yusen Kaisha. Sir John says that at the reception in the Foreign Office on the 3rd of that telegrams had been sent to Australia for the directors of the Nippon Yusen Kaisha " All I can say just now," he remarked, "is ral Togo and his brother Admirals, in the Imthat the races will take place as usual, and perial Hotel on the following day, and that they desired the pleasure of Sir John See's presence promising to place him in the seat of bonou on Mr. Kondo's right hand. Sir John gladly accepted, and was therefore not a little as tounded and offended when he subsequently received an intimation that, there being a difficulty in finding a seat for him, the invitation must be withdrawn. This treatment he describes as very rude, and so it would be if the circumstances described by Sir John were accurate. But Mr. Kondo, approached by a member of the Jiji Skimpo's staff, gives an account which greatly alters the complexion of the affair. He says, in the first place, that he had not thought of inviting Sir John See to the banquet, for the reason that hosts and guests consisted of Japanese alone and that no inreigners whatever were to be included. Alt was Sir John himself who, on being introduced to Mr. Kondo, alluded to the banquet, of which he had heard, and asked to be included among the invites. Mr. Kondo's reply we what might have been expected from an eminently courteous Japanese. Headld not refuse point blank, as he might easily and conveniently have done by merely explaining that no foreigners were to be bidden to the banquet. A refusal on such grounds might possibly have been construed as impolite. He therefore replied that nothing could give him greater pleasure than to welcome Sir John to the dinner, but that he must first consult: Admirals Togo and Kamimura, and subsequently ascertain whether a convenient arrangement of seats could be made. The Admirals, on being consulted, were, of course, agreeable, but then arose been re-stamped in reference to the amend- the question of how to place the ex-Premier of Australia. THE LIENCHAU MASSA RE.

Commenting on the Hongkong reports of the missionary murders at Lien-chau, the Japan Chronicle devotes a lengthy lender on the sui ject. This is what that excellent journal wrote on the 2:nd November: --

In yesterday's issue we publ shed a summar of the statements reaching Hongkong' regard. ing the attack on the missionaries at Lien-chau and the murder of five unfortunate persons, based on the particulars obtained from the two survivors. They probably constitute all that we shall ever know of what occurred on the terrible day, or of the cause which led to a sudden explosion of ferocious hatred against missionaries in a district which has hitherto borne What is of most importance to the world in general is the reason for the outbreaker Did given: A correspondent, apparently a missionary, writing from Samshui, which place the survivors reached on the 8th instant, states that Dr. Machle, finding & Chinese religious ceremony going on in a matshed which encroached on mission land seized two bombs which were about to be let off by a boy, this would come and see him to talk over the matplosion of crackers and other fireworks on cere the establishment of a mission in their districts to hope that the coming cold season may be 1919 occasions by the Chinese, and It is quite | with anything but satisfaction.

conceivable that the seizure of bombe might be regarded by the Chinese as being as great an act of sacriege as the appropriation of a conser at an open-air celebration of Catholic mysteries in Europe. Now it is a remarkable fact that in the later account from Canton, which appears to have been obtained from Dr. Machle and to represent his views, nothing is said of this incident. Dr. Machle is represented as discover my that a part of the matched where religious ceremony was being performed was built on mission property, and, shocked that any part of the mission ground should be put to such a use, he asked the elders to come and see him, which they did, promising, after what is said to be an amicable conversation with tio missionary, not low tepeat the offence. Then, quite unaccountably, the riot begins. We think most peop a will be inclined to regard the earlier story as the most probable us it gives a reason for the riot which the later story quite fails to do. On arrival at Canton Dr. Machle doubtless learned of the reports circulation as to his responsibility for the out break, and it would not be surprising if the story told at Samshul by the survivors was thereupon somewhat m diffed. L'r. Machle. il must be remembered, is practically on his trial. He bas not only to answer the charge of provoking the riot by an act which at the least showed a woeful-lack of prudence, but he has also to explain how he allowed his wife and child to be dragged from the cave where they had taken refuge without at least attempting to protect them, even at the cost of his own life. The account given, evidently on Dr.

Machie's authority, of what has pened in the Cave is not very convincing. After all had entered he slopped to bar the door, and when he had finished could hear nothing of the others, who, as they had no candles, must have gone forward in utter darkness at a very rapid pare indeed to have been beyond the sound of his voice. That knowing nothing of what had become of his wife and the others and oblivious to the terrible shouts that must have resounded through the cave on the finding of the other members of the party, including his wife and child, Dr. Machle could have been so concerned for his own safety as to smear himself with mud and submerge himself in water with only an eye and nose above the surface, would seem to argue that he is an abnormal type of man,-very abnormal, it may be hoped,-but does not lend additional support to his credibility as a witness. The most discreditable part of the Canton story, to which we note with regret that the China Mail lends credence, is the attempt shift the responsibility for the outbreak of the riot from the shoulders of Dr. Machle to those of his Christian fellow-workers who happen to own the authority of Rome, and who are deliberately charged, not with imprudent acts, but with premeditated murder. For that is what the allegations amount to, and the utter recklessness with which they are made can be seen from the evidence which has already appeared in our columns. It is alleged (1) That a similar dispute between Dr. Machle and the village occurred last year, some men who are enrolled as Catholics said that they proposed to kill all the Protestant missionaries. That is, the mis-'sionaries were told so by their converts. (2) The ringleaders in the mob were recognised by the Protestant Chris ians as Catholics. Pretty evidence this, when the hatred between Protestant Chinese and Catholic Chinese is one of the well-known fruits of religious propaganda in China. (3). That the French priests, although several times requested by interests in the Orient. the Chinese authorities, "rafused" to do any. thing to quiet a mob roused to fury. It would be interesting to know what Dr. Machle would have done if the situation had been reversed. Would his courage have led him to face a mob roused to burn and kill by the belief that foreign religious sites involved the sacrifice of Chinese children?

so threatening that the survivors had to be dis-

INTERESTS. GREAT NORTHERN COMPANY APPOINTS GENERAL MANAGER

ONGKUNG'S SHIPPING

S. van Buten who is well known

Hongkong having been connected with the shipping interests of the port for a considerable period, has been appointed general agent of the Great Northern Steamship Company with lieudquarters at Hongkong. Mr. van Buren was interviewed by a representative of the Hongking Telegraph to-day on the subject, but while declining to confirm the slatement he did not deny the fact. He temarked that he did not care to say anything on the matter until he had received his mai which will arrive by the steamship Datotok. There is no doubt, however, that the appoint ment has been made. The Seattle and San Francisco papers, which recognise the importance of the Great Northern's interests, declare the fact in the most definite terms, and cite as their authority the traffic manager of the steamship and railway lines controlled by the Great Northern Company.

In the past, the Nippon Yusen Kaisha has represented the Great Northern Steamship. Company, and the Hill Railroads. The arrangement was that the Nippon Yusen Kai ha should represent the interests, here while the latter acted as the N.Y.K.'s representatives in America. It is stated, however, that this agreement has not been quite so successful as would be desired, As an official of the Hill Companies has stated -" It has resulted in giving the Japanese line big cargoes on the voyage of their ships out of Scattle, but Hill representatives have felt that the Minnesota has not had the share of Oriental traffic, bound this way, to which it is entitled. This view has been strengthened by the fact that the Japanese boats have arrived fully loaded, while the Hill liners were only partially filled." The fact of the matter ocems to be that the officials of the Great Northern Company recognise the necessity of having a special representative on the spot, if they are to make the great liners Minnesota and Dakotah pay their way. It is impossible that any company, no matter how influential, can effect the entrance to business when hit is 'solely represented by another firm, and it is in recognition of that fact that Mr. van Buren has been appointed general manager at this port. The agreement with the Nippon Yusen Kaisha expires on the 1st of July, but the probability is that Mr. van Buren will take up his duties at once. Six months' notice of the severance of the agreement has to he given, so we may take it that the hotice will be presented on the 1st of January. There the suggestion, however, that the Great Northern will not only establish themselves in Hongkong with a general-manager in charge but will also continue the agreement whereby an interchange of traffic is assured. The actual conditions will not be known, however, until the arrival of the Dakotah. The Minnesota, which arrived at Seattle o the 19th ult., had only 7:000 tons cargo, a small amount for a veisel which is capable of accommodating over 20,000 tons,

Mr. J. S. van Buren is a grandson of a former. President of the United States, For some time he was engaged with the China Commercial Steamship Company, but resigned that appointment in June last. He is persona grata with commercial firms in Hongkong, and his appointment by the Great Northern Company is undoubtedly calculated to forward their ow that Japanese envoys are in China and rea for the settlement of pending questions, is not unnatural that much attention should devoted to those subjects by the vernacular riting with reference to the Chinese ques-chumin remarks that it is not surprising that amongst the Chinese there; should be some who, for reasons of historical tradition, consider the sitting on the lence principle the best policy for China to take, but the Peking Government must be aware of the fact that, in the matter of questions, immediately pending, it has no other expedient but to rely on Japan. Au understanding between Japan and China has practically been arrived at or is about to be accomplished, and what now remains to be done is only to give the finishing touch by means of a treaty. If China is sensible enough to realise the trend of circumstances she will show no hesitation in entering into an understarding with Japan, "In other words, if China agrees to Japan's proposals so much the better; but even if she does not, that will make no difference with Japan, for she can hardly be expected to repudiate that she has obtained the point of the bayonet and what she has publicly announced to the world as her own. It would be wise for China if she agrees, with as much grace as the can afford, to what she is bound to consent to under any circumstances. It must be borne in mind, however, says the semi-official journal, that an understanding between the two countries is as much for the interests of Japan as it is for those of China. Although Japan aims at the protection of her interests and those of other Powers in China, she does not ignore due respect for Chinese sovereignty. In short, Japan does not intend to make China her prey. but her permanent customer. Japan's desire and anxiety regarding the future of China are prompted by community of interests existing between the two countries. If China is now enabled to hold her own amongst the strong Powers of the world it is because strong and faithful friends are standing by her. The Peking Government ought to have welcomed an understanding with Japan with open arms if it knows this state of affairs. Otherwise, China must understand that Japan may be alienated from her, and of, unfortunately, this should happen, it may mean the downfall of the Chinese Empire. The Osaka Mainichi discusses the Korean question, which, it says, despite the assurances of the official organ to the contrary, appears to make not much headway even in the hands of Marquis Ito." It is a fortnight since Mr. Hayashi returned to Seoul from Tokyo, observes our contemporary, but nothing has been heard of negotiations by which to definitely settle" th relations between Japan and Korea. The putting off of important business at this stage is inexplicable. It has been presumed by some that Mr. Hayashis negotiations with the Korean Court would be deferred until Marquis Ito has had an audience with the Korean Emperor. Marquis Ito has now been in Korea for a week, and though at one time his Majesty wis reported to have displayed a feeling of trust and confidence towards the Japanese statesman, later dispatches seem to indicate a change in the situation. His Majesty, it would seem, is not only prevented from returning the visit of Marquis Ito on account of indisposition, but the latter is also debarred from having further audience with the Emperor. While sympathising with the indisposition of his Majesty, it must be remembered that it is not unusual in Korea that important, business is held in abeyance on the plea of ill-health, and no one will be much surprised if the alleged sickness of the Emperor should turn out to be one of those tricks at which the Korean Court schemers are so adept. Another thing to which the attention of the Japanese Government should be called, the Osaka journal continues, is that the Korean Cabinet has issued a notification stigmatizing the declaration of the 11 Chin-hoi as an attempt to "delude the people's mind by means of fal e statements." The declaration of the II Chin-hoi (a political organisation formed, by Koreans of progressive ideas) is in perfect cononance with the spirit of the Japan-Korear Convention and aims at the cementing of closer relations between the two countries. The attitude taken by the Korean Government towards the action of this society must be interp eted as showing a desire to dissolve the existing relations between Japan and Koren. is most inexplicable that Mr. Itayashi has not taken immediate steps to induce the Korean · Cabinet to withdraw the objectionable notification in question. The future status of Korea is clearly scipulated for in the Treaty of Peace and the Anglo-Japanese Treaty, and Marquis Ito and Mr. Haya-hi are now in Seoul in order to reduce into definite shape what has received the tacit consent of the world. Despite these circumstances, the Korean business seems to make no particular progress, and we must as much deplore the obdurate conservatism of the Koreans as we regret the vacillation displayed hy Japan in dealing with the problem.— Jupan

THE CONCRETE QUESTION DEFORE THE SANITARY BOARD.

In continuation of our report of the meeting of the Sanitary Board, on the subject of cen creting the ground fliors of certain houses at Aberdeen, Staunton, and Elgin Streets, the following remarks embodied in Mr. Lau Chu Pak's minute, condensed in our report of yesterday, will be found of interest; -"It has so happened that in some instances where those contractors who came uninvited to apply for the job when the notice was served, ] did it to the satisfaction of the Board's officers, while the owner's own contractors did not, and if had to do it over again. This naturally gives rise to suspicion and people wonder by what means those contractors got to know whenever something was required to be done by the

TAKAN'S PROTECTORATE IVKR COREA. OUTLINE OF THE NEW AGREFMENT.

The Kube Hemild, of 2 th November, says:-A message received from Seoul this efternoon states that the Corean Capital is tranquil and that no repetition of the disturbances on the night of the 17th, when the residence of the Minister of Education was destroyed, is anticipated. The Corean Ministers all sent in their resignations on the (8th, but the Emperor bas declined to accept them.

As an outcome of the Agreement, direct diplomatic relations between Corea an I the Powers will now cease, and all the foreign Ministers at Seoul will be withdrawn. The same correspondent gives the following account of the final conference of the Gorean authorities:-At the meeting in the presence of the Emperor, on the 17th, Japan was represented by Mr. Hayashi, Japanese Minister at Scoul, Mr. Hagiwara, Chief Secretary of the Japanese Legation, Mr. Kokubu, Secretary to Mr. Hayashi, and Messrs. Shimokawa and Mhema, who acted as Interpreters. On the Corean side, there we e present the Prime Minister and all the other Ministers of tate. The Emperor took the view that to reject the proposals altogether would be an act of rudeness on the part of Cores. The P-ime Minister, however, continued to maintain a most obstinate opposition, and had an audience with the Emperor for the purpose of submitting his opinions. By this time a number of the Corean Ministers were inclined to accept the Japanese proposals, but none of them ventured to give utterance to that view. At about midnight theoresidence of \ikang Yong, Minister of Education, who on Friday morning had come out as a strong supporter of Japan, after having previously been bitterly anti-Japanese, was attacked by about twenty roughs, and set on fire. Indications of public ferment were also apparent in the vicinity of the Palace. where the conference was still in progress. All the Ministers appeared by this time to be in favour of the 'acceptance' of the Japanese demands, but they healtated to openly express their opinion Eventually, Yi-Kangyong boldly took the plunge and declared that he was willing to agree to the Japanese proposals. As a matter of form, he proposed the making of a few alterations. His example was quickly followed by the other Ministers, and at I a.m. the new Agreement was signed by the Mr. Hayashi, Japanese Minister at Seoul, and Corean Foreign Mini ter. But although the signing thus actually took place in the early hours of the 19th, the instrument was given. the date of the previous day in commemoration of the Japanese Emperor's worship at the Yamada shrines.
